

Australian Government

Department of Infrastructure,
Transport, Regional Development,
Communications and the Arts

Office of the Information Commissioner

Freedom of information for Western Australia

Accessing government documents

You have a right to access documents held by Western Australian State government agencies and your local shire, subject to some limitations.

First, talk to the agency that has the documents and ask for them.

If the agency says 'no', you might be able to make a freedom of information access application.

For information about how to access documents, contact the Office of the Information Commissioner WA.

Call us – 08 6551 7888 (TIS – xxxxx)

Email us – info@oic.wa.gov.au

Visit our website – www.oic.wa.gov.au

