Chloe Sykes (Mak Xavier)

I have been living on Cocos with my partner, Ben, and two children (Xavier, 9 and Eliza, 7) for 1 year now.

I see how special this place is. However, I also see the logistical difficulties of island life that families and businesses face each day. I want to help solve these problems.

I am a mother, a scientist and a teacher. I have worked in state government and businesses of all sizes. My broad life experience, honesty and love of problem solving will make me a brave and creative representative for you.

I believe good choices for the environment are good for the economy.

I believe empowering our women, youth and elders is good for everybody.

I believe the first step to problem solving is listening. I will hear you and advocate for you. I will be your voice at the table.
